Passage 1: A Road Trip from Nairobi to Kisumu

Last Saturday, Achieng and her family decided to travel from Nairobi to Kisumu by bus. They left home early in the morning to avoid traffic. Before boarding, they ensured that their luggage was well packed and that each member had a seatbelt. The bus stopped at designated rest points along the highway to allow passengers to stretch and buy refreshments.

Along the way, they saw several road signs and learned about the Kenya National Highways Authority (KeNHA), which maintains and supervises major roads in the country. Achieng was excited to see the scenic views of the Great Rift Valley and the hills surrounding Nakuru town.

During the journey, the bus conductor reminded passengers to respect each other, keep their seats tidy, and fasten their seatbelts. After a long but comfortable ride, the family finally arrived in Kisumu safely, ready to explore Lake Victoria and enjoy their holiday.
