Question Number	Question	Answer	Explanations
1	During an IRE lesson, the teacher emphasizes that the greatest sin in Islam is associating partners with Allah. What is the Islamic term for associating partners with Allah?	C. Shirk	Shirk is the act of associating partners with Allah in His divinity, lordship, or worship. It is considered the greatest and most unforgivable sin in Islam if a person dies without repenting from it. Tawheed is the opposite, the pure belief in the oneness of Allah.
2	Aisha's grandmother warns her against wearing certain amulets or charms, saying they are against the teachings of Islam. Such practices, where power is attributed to objects rather than Allah, are a manifestation of:	C. Shirk.	Attributing power or protection to amulets, charms, or other objects is a form of Shirk because it involves relying on something other than Allah for protection or benefit.
3	Omar sees people bowing down to idols in a movie. He understands that this is forbidden in Islam. Worshipping idols or statues is an example of which type of Shirk?	C. Shirk in Worship (Uluhiyyah).	Shirk in Worship is dedicating any act of worship (like bowing, praying, or sacrificing) to anyone or anything other than Allah. Worshipping idols falls directly into this category.
