Part A: Objective Multiple-Choice Key (Q1 – Q30)

1. A — Courteous and respectful. Offering greetings before launching into inquiries reflects social courtesy and foundational manners.
2. C — As proud as a peacock. This simile does not feature anywhere in the dialogue. "Bright as a button," "clear as day," and "right as rain" are all present.
3. B — She had received financial support from her sister. Mother explicitly mentions Aunt Brenda sending money to assist the family.
4. C — Mother intended to spend every single coin that Aunt Brenda sent. False; Mother explicitly states she will leave a balance in savings to earn interest.
5. B — It is wise to save part of our money for future needs. The moral reflects financial literacy—allocating funds for immediate needs while reserving savings for emergencies.
6. B — It provides faster and more immediate message delivery than postal letters. Directly stated in paragraph one (takes a split second compared to weeks).
7. B — Sending abusive or threatening messages to others using digital devices. Contextual definition drawn from paragraph two on cyber harassment.
8. B — Electronic communication delivers messages instantaneously over long distances. Faster delivery through modern channels has superseded slower postal letters.
9. B — Strangers online should be given full trust and personal phone numbers. The passage explicitly warns that sharing personal data with online strangers is unsafe.
10. C — Celebrate and honor hardworking learners from the village. Stated in the opening sentence as a celebratory luncheon for top-performing pupils.
11. A — Ill-mannered and impatient. Shoving people aside, cutting queues, and yelling orders demonstrate poor social decorum.
12. C — Pendo's Bad Conduct at Elder Baraza's Banquet. Highlights the central dramatic conflict of the narrative.
13. B — They happen frequently in homesteads when precautions are ignored. Confirmed by "Hardly a week passes without local clinics treating..."
14. A — Can be avoided if proper care is taken. "Preventable" means avoidable through reasonable care and foresight.
15. C — Everyone must take safety precautions to avoid household injuries. Summarizes the core lesson of the passage.
16. B — those. Plural demonstrative pronoun indicating people at a distance ("sitting under the tent / waiting beside the block").
