ENGLISH GRADE 5 2026

LEARNER'S COPY

Mohammed visited his grandmother in the village. She was preparing lunch while Mohammed played with his cousin in the compound. As they explored the surroundings, Mohammed noticed that one of the hens was missing.

"Where could the hen have gone?" Mohammed wondered.

"Let us search around the compound," suggested his cousin. They looked behind the house and under the trees, but the hen was nowhere to be seen.

"Listen! I can hear a hen clucking," Mohammed exclaimed.

They followed the sound to the vegetable garden. There, Mohammed discovered the hen trapped between two wooden sticks.

"Do not be frightened. I will set you free," Mohammed said gently.

He carefully moved the sticks apart and rescued the hen.

"You have saved it!" his cousin exclaimed. Mohammed returned the hen to the chicken house. When their grandmother heard what had happened, she smiled warmly.

© The Kenya National Examinations Council